

Sue Geller Undergraduate Lecture

Sue Geller, known to students as Dr. Sue, is Professor of Mathematics at Texas A&M. She was the founder and long-time Director of Honors in Mathematics, the first department-level honors program at TAMU. She has supervised more than 100 Masters students and has mentored an uncountable (although finite) number of undergraduates. Her honors include the Ron Barnes Distinguished Service to Students Award from the Texas section of the Mathematical Association of America, and the Texas A&M University Distinguished Service Award in Individual Student Relationships.

Mathematics Makes Communication Possible

Wednesday, January 17th
Reception: 5:30- 6:00
Lecture: 6:00-7:00
Discussion: 7:00-7:30

Blocker 117

Judy Walker

Is an Aaron Douglas Professor for Teaching Excellence at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. She has served as chair of the Department of Mathematics as well as Associate Vice Chancellor for Faculty and Academic Affairs at the University. She is the co-founder of the Nebraska Conference for Undergraduate Women in Mathematics and the All Girls/ All Math program for high school girls. She has received the Louise Hay Award for Contributions to Mathematics Education from the Association for Women in mathematics in 2016, and was the Mathematical Association of America George Polya Lecturer in 2009-2011. She is a fellow of the American Mathematical Society.

For more information,
please visit:

The Sue Geller Undergraduate Lecture Series is intended as a venue for undergraduate students to interact with a leading researcher from outside Texas A&M; who has also demonstrated a deep interest in mentoring students. Before 2018 it was known as the Mathematics Undergraduate Research Series. The 2016 speaker was Richard P. Stanley from MIT, the 2017 speaker was Jeffery C. Lagarias from the University of Michigan.